ARDENT WORKSHOP

IFTAR HOSTING NIGHT SHEET

Iftar Hosting Night Sheet

One Ramadan iftar you host, on one page: who's coming, who brings what, the menu by course and your own timings. Filled in once as an example, then blank to print.

Free · print at 100% · US Letter

During Ramadan, the evening you host is easy to under-plan: the head count shifts, three families each say “we'll bring something,” and by the time everyone sits down you have two sides and no main. This is one page that holds the whole evening.

START WITH THE FILLED EXAMPLE

The next page is filled in for the Malik-Adeyemi household, a fictional household hosting on Day 14 — 5 at home plus 12 guests, a head count of 17. Then print the blank one behind it and fill in your own evening. Every name on the example page is invented.

What the sheet holds, for one evening: who is coming and how many each family brings; the menu by course; who is bringing what; your own timings; and a course checklist so a missing course shows up while there is still time to ask someone to bring it.

Household planning only. The sheet sets no times and gives no rulings — the timings are whatever your household decides, written in your own hand.

WORKED EXAMPLE — a fictional household

Hosting night sheet

One per hosting night. List who's coming and what each family is bringing, then check every course you need is covered before you shop.

Day 14 · Sunday, February 21 — household 5 + guests 12 = head count 17

Guest family	People	Bringing (course)	What	Confirmed?
The Haddad family	4	Starter	Stuffed grape leaves	Yes
The Park family	3	Side	Herb flatbread	Pending
The Abubakar family	5	Help only	Dish duty	Yes

Course check · must-have = a course you need on the table that night

Course	Must-have?	Who's covering it	Covered?
Starter	No	Host: Red lentil soup + The Haddad family: Stuffed grape leaves	Covered
Main	Yes	Host: Lamb & potato stew	Covered
Side	No	Host: Roasted vegetables + The Park family: Herb flatbread	Covered
Dessert	Yes	—	MISSING
Drinks	Yes	Host: Rose milk	Covered

Our timings

Guests arrive
We eat
Clean-up / who's on dishes	The Abubakar family (dish duty)

Notes

No dessert planned yet — ask a guest

Hosting night sheet

One per hosting night. List who's coming and what each family is bringing, then check every course you need is covered before you shop.

Day ___ Date _____ Household ___ + guests ___ = head count ___

Guest family	People	Bringing (course)	What	Confirmed?

Course check · must-have = a course you need on the table that night

Course	Must-have?	Who's covering it	Covered?

Our timings

Guests arrive
We eat
Clean-up / who's on dishes

Notes

One evening, or the whole month

A plan on paper belongs to the household that wrote it. You print it, you fill it in, you keep it — that is the idea behind Ardent Workshop: pages you own outright, not another account to maintain. This sheet is one evening's plan; the same thinking works across the whole month.

THE FULL RAMADAN & EID HOUSEHOLD PLANNER

Plan all 30 nights once and the file works out how much of each dish to make for each night's table, the shopping list for the next ten days, what to cook ahead and when, and which hosting night still has a course nobody is bringing. It is an Excel and Google Sheets workbook, with 14 undated print-and-fill pages and a worked example. A one-time purchase you keep. See the full planner ›

Reading a printout? Type ardentworkshop.com/products/ramadan-and-eid-household-planner

See the full range at ardentworkshop.com.

Pass this sheet on to another host if it is useful — nothing was asked for it. A household planner only: it sets no prayer or fasting times and gives no religious rulings.

© Ardent Workshop LLC. This free starter is yours to keep and to share as-is. Please don't resell it.